

Drama Volunteer Task Profile

Talkback is an organisation for and with people with a learning disability and autism. Our overall aim is to empower people to realise their full potential.

We are seeking a volunteer to work with our drama group in Aylesbury, to support the group leaders, helping members to have fun and get as much from the group as possible.

We would love to hear from anyone with any of the following skills and experience:

Experience in drama/creative arts

Ability to enable people to express themselves through drama and encourage confidence

Inclusive and person-centred approach

Technical skills e.g., set building

Direct experience with people with a learning disability or autism is not essential. Drama experience and a passion to help others put on a show is what we are looking for.

Tasks include:

- Introducing activities and ideas to the sessions
- Supporting staff with the running of the group
- Encouraging participants who might be needing extra support
- Supporting with or introducing ideas for the technical aspects of drama production.

Volunteers will need to undertake a DBS for the role which Talkback will arrange. As well as undertaking necessary training (we will offer support).

You may have experience (personal or work) of supporting people with a learning disability or autism though this is not essential.

You will need to have a calm and flexible approach.

In return we offer:

- Trial session
- Full induction and ongoing support and supervision

- Comprehensive training package and reasonable expenses covered
- The opportunity to enhance your CV with diverse experience
- Lots of fun and a dynamic and proactive team to work with!

If you have any other ideas on how you can help make the drama group a success or for more information on the role please contact:
